Association leaders,

Karl Mecklenburg was a huge hit at our annual Rocky Mountain Fleet Management Association Conference. We received so many great comments on his presentation. One of them being his attitude was not “I am celebrity – hands off” like other celebrity’s attitudes.

Karl arrived early and spent some time with our attendees at breakfast, greeting them and making conversation as he passed out his brochures. Spending this extra time, signing autographs after his presentation, and customizing his presentation to fit our team proved to us that he values RMFMA and our members.

We are a diverse association with members attending from five different states with a wide variety of corporate and governmental fleet managers and yet we all left with take home points from his keynote that will apply to our lives. We even had our attendees comment to another of our keynote speakers how great Karl’s presentation was!

Men, women, sports fan or not, we all laughed and learned from this great speaker.

He was awesome!
