Dear Karl,

Thank you very much for your recent participation in Saybrus Partners' National Sales Meeting in Orlando. We have received great feedback on the meeting and your session in particular. Thank you for taking the time to learn about Saybrus and incorporate our goals into your message. Our attendees particularly liked your Six Keys to Success and the inspiring ways you wove in your personal story. You were especially generous to spend the time during lunch meeting our attendees and personalizing books - it was truly a thrill, particularly for our Colorado-based team members!

We cannot host successful events like this without the help of great speakers. We are honored that you were able to participate in our meeting and hope you found it to be time well-spent.

Thank you for helping make this our best meeting yet!

Sincerely,

Edward Cassidy
