

Dear Meeting Planners,

My organization chose Karl Mecklenburg to be the keynote speaker for our 2018 Q3 Contracting Leadership Conference. Karl captivated our leadership team by personalizing his remarks while tying his challenges and lessons learned as a professional football player to our unique construction teamwork and leadership challenges. Mecklenburg connected with our team by telling stories that were inspiring and motivating to our executive and worksite leaders. I received very positive feedback from conference attendees. One participant said, "I found myself smiling and nodding along with Karl's stories and lessons. I wanted to hear and learn more."

In addition to connecting with our team as a speaker, Karl came early and joined us for lunch where he spent time interacting with individuals. Karl was very gracious with our group as he stayed after his keynote speech to answer questions, pose for photos, and sign autographs.

I highly recommend Karl Mecklenburg as a motivational teamwork and leadership speaker for your next corporate event.
