Meeting Planners,

Van Meter recently brought Karl Mecklenburg in to speak at our annual leadership conference. From the moment we picked him up at the airport, Karl fit in with our team. It felt like an old friend was back in town. Mecklenburg toured our facility and then went to dinner with a group of company leaders. During the tour and dinner, the group had a great time talking and sharing our culture at Van Meter with Karl.

Karl's speech the next day to our leaders was exceptional. He had personalized his comments with examples from our conversations and his tour of the facility. Karl's presentation challenged our leaders to learn and explore their own leadership through his Six Keys to Success. His talk was full of humor, and solid examples from his remarkable football background. Comments from attendees included "Karl has great examples of leadership success..." and "...Karl has a great presence and skill for speaking."

After speaking Karl signed autographs, posed for photos with his new fans, answered any questions that didn't come up during his speech and joined us for lunch. Mecklenburg's presence and presentation helped our meeting team make the leadership conference a valuable experience for all attendees.

I highly recommend Karl Mecklenburg as a keynote speaker.

Sincerely,

Jenn Bleil
